A birthplace of the ancient medicine Iu=Ou=aconite

"Iu" is equivalent to "Ou", an ancient name of poisonous aconite. It was an important herb used in Chinese medicine. The district was likely to be called "Iu District" probably because the groups of people with such advanced bio-technology knowledge dwell there.

Sutoh Yaaee 1650-1752/Yakumo Town, Matsue City 270×280×170(cm)

In order to save the village from frequent floods, he decided at the age of 56 to cut off the hard andesite rock mountain by using only the chisel and the hammer. He was 97 when he completed the Mt. Tsurugi excavation project to change the river root. Thus he saved the villagers and died at the age of 102. In August of 2014 we produced his bronze statue with bronze from America at Tai' erzhuang, Shandong Province, China where the fierce battles between Chinese and Japanese forces were fought with great casualties from both sides. The 63rd Regiment of Japanese Army from Matsue also took part in the battle. On August 1, 2014, the Day of Water, we placed the bronze statue near the Izanagi Mausoleum where the people sent off their young ones to the battle fields.

The Korean Peninsula and the Japanese Archipelago located at the place where the nuclear powers meet.

We don’t know any country which has given up its nukes after declaring having some. Since Japan and the Republic of Korea are both under the nuclear umbrella of America, we must have a scenario that we will take our responsibility for the history of mankind to help the DPRK become the first country of denuclearization in history.
